OBJECT OF THE GAME/GAME DESCRIPTION

As the last traces of color leave the sky you're hanging out by your new wheels, anxious for the race to start. Transamerica — from the West Coast to the East Coast. Okay. It's time. You jump into the driver's seat, feeling the awesome power beneath you. Stepping through the gears, the cars around you fade into tiny specks in the rear view mirror.

Look out! You're on top of a hairpin curve. Whoa. The tires screech and your heart hits your rib cage, but you make it, laughing. There's only a few more of these 'till you reach the plains.

Then it happens. Another curve hits you in the face. It's too fast. You struggle for the shoulder, but the next thing you know you're catapulting through the air — almost weightless — until your body tears up against the seat belt. Then. All is still.

Not a scratch on you. And the protective ceramic overcoating on your car did the trick — no major damage. You let out a scream, turn the car around, and hit it. There's still time. But you've got to be cool. Alert. You're headed straight for the coast and those glorious checkered flags. Defying the odds again.

Please read this instruction booklet to ensure proper handling of your new game, and then save the booklet for future reference.

3. HOW TO PLAY

Winning Strategies

- ◆ Familiarize yourself with each road course.
- ◆ Never forget the limits of your car.
- ◆ Don't fail to notice the "Curve" signs.
- ◆ Competitors can become allies, depending on your technique.
- ◆ Be prepared for any kind of accident.

Techniques

● Turbo

When the speedometer tops 100 km/h, the powerful turbo increases acceleration.

Screen Layout

● Slipstream

This is an effective way to protect your car from being attacked by a competitor by aligning it exactly behind his car.

● Out/In/Out

This technique lets you take corners at faster speeds by driving first on the outer edge, then cutting in straight across the inner edge, and finally returning to the outer edge.

● Touch and Turn

With this highly advanced technique, you hit a competitor's car, get flipped and thrown in the air, and use this to your advantage.
